

July 2016 Project Update: The Duben project team is scheduled to complete the 95% level design this fall, at which time the documents will be uploaded to the project website (shown below).

There is no timetable for final design or construction of the project due to lack of funding. However, the project team will continue to coordinate right-of-way acquisitions and to work with utility companies and individual property owners to resolve specific issues. Further updates will be provided at such time as additional funding becomes available.
